FELT HER BROTHER'S DEATH.

A Curious Circumstance Which Indicated Mental Telepathy.

A curious circumstance that may be looked upon as a confirmation of the doctrine of mental telepathy took place here recently in a family of importance in the history of the state. This family number among its members a lady and her twin brother, a young man who for the past few years has been in business in New Zealand, but who has been expected home on a visit to his sister.

One evening lately the lady was sitting surrounded by friends when all at once she gave a piercing cry, and placing her hand to her side fell fainting to the floor. On reviving she declared that she had been suddenly stabbed just above the heart and under the left arm, indicating the spots. She was assured that she was laboring under the purest imagination, but was hard to convince that this was the case, so plainly had she felt the knife enter the body.

That night a little daughter was born to her, and the child was found to be marked on the places indicated by the mother as the wounds she had imagined. The marks on the child looked as if they might be the cicatrix of old knife wounds. The next day a cablegram was received from friends of the twin brother in New Zealand, informing his sister that he had been stabbed to death by a native in a quarrel, and the date given of the young man's death was that of the night when his sister had felt the pang of a knife entering her own body.

She prevailed on her husband to inquire by cable whether her brother's murderer had struck him, and to complete the coincidence learned that he had been stabbed twice, once above the heart and again under the left arm. She is convinced that through her affinity with her brother she felt his death even as he received it.—New Orleans Letter.

Literary Chicago.

In Chicago there are literary men and men of literary ability. There is a distinction and a difference between the two classes. The literary men are those who write unsalable novels of many pages, and finally dispose of their works by the pound. They spend the remainder of their lives in despairing of the future of a western literature and in running The Cleaners' and Menders' Monthly.

There is also Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, who twitters through a bower of wide margin and extra paper and sells numerous copies of his works because there happen to be 400 people in his set. He forms a separate class by himself, being the sole member of Chicago's literary who has bridged the great gulf fixed between Bohemia and Belgravia.—Chicago Mail.

A Lost Gallo-Roman City Unearthed.
A dispatch to the London News from Paris says: "Excavations in Oissieu, in Petit, department of the Sarthe, have revealed a Gallo-Roman city which appears to have been destroyed by an earthquake. The city probably contained some 400 inhabitants, but its name is not known in French history. The ruins include a great temple part of which is still standing and a theater and monumental. A number of medals have been found which include one of the time of Augustus and another of the time of Nero."

ASSESSING BEEF CATTLE.

In the early and prosperous days of Nevada the laws provided that the Boards of Commissioners of the several counties should levy the tax or State and county purposes on the Monday of April of each year. In 1883, when the decline in the price of silver began to depreciate the value of property, the Legislature passed an act providing for the levying of taxes not later than the first Monday in March of each year, and that the lien for taxes should attach to property from the 1st of January of each year. It was stated at the time the change was made that one of the objects of the act was to collect taxes on beef cattle which were being fattened in Nevada for the San Francisco market. In 1887 the law was amended so that the lien for taxes does not attach to property until the tax is levied.

Now it is contended that levying and collecting taxes upon cattle which are being fattened in the valleys of Nevada, will be unjust to the owners of the cattle and to those who sell them. Many cattle owners in Eastern Nevada drive their herds to Humboldt and Washoe counties to be fattened. Cattle are also driven here from Northwestern California to be fattened on the nutritious grasses of the Meadows. To assess those cattle and compel their owners to pay taxes on them would be unjust, as in many instances it has not been over two months since taxes were paid on them before. If it is done it will have a tendency to keep cattle away from here in which event farmers would have to seek other markets for their hay.

As the lien on taxable property does not attach until 12 o'clock noon in California would it not be advisable for Nevada to follow the example of the Golden State in that particular? Then whether personal property be in this State or California at that time it will be subject to taxation and stock owners can not gain or lose only the difference in the rate of taxation whether their cattle are assessed on the east or west side of the State line.

AMERICANIZING THE ARMY.

Congressman Curtis of New York, who served in the Union army, introduced a bill to Americanize the army. The bill was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, which has reported it favorably. It revises the regulations for enlistments and its most important provisions are, that no man shall be enlisted in time of peace who is not an American citizen or declared his intention to become a citizen, and who is not able to speak, read and write the English language. The candidate for enlistment must be under 30 years of age, and no man shall be eligible for re-enlistment who has not served honestly and faithfully during his first term.

Official reports show that over 37 per cent. of the regular army at the present time owe allegiance to foreign governments. Many of our soldiers enlisted shortly after their arrival in the country and know nothing of American institutions except what they have learned at frontier posts or in army barracks near large cities. In flush times the regular army had no charms for young men, as they could do better in factories or on farms, and recruiting officers willingly accepted all who offered themselves and had the physical requirements for soldiery. Now there is no difficulty in keeping the army up to its full standard, as many young men prefer army life to enforced idleness, and it is proposed to Americanize it by changing the regulations governing enlistments.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The report of the Interstate Commission for 1893 shows:

Gross earnings of American roads, per mile	7,443
Operating expenses, per mile	5,042
Net earnings, per mile	2,401
Increase of gross earnings over 1892, per mile	230
Increase of operating expenses per mile	233
Increase earnings of railroads over 1892	9,774,957
Increase in dividends to stockholders	1,963,713

The figures are for all roads in the United States which come under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. As several roads have gone into the hands of receivers for the alleged reason that the operating expenses exceeded the net earnings some roads must be doing a better business than heretofore as the average net earnings of all the roads were $2,401 per mile. The increased earnings of roads over 1892 were $9,774,957, and the increase in dividends to stockholders over 1892, $1,963,713.

As the Commission's figures are official, it appears that the railroads did not lose so very much money in 1893, in fact, many of them made more money than in 1892.

THE POPULISTS IN CONGRESS.

Charles A. Dana, whose opinions of parties and men are expressed without fear or favor, says in the New York Sun:

"So much for the Populist members. There is not an idle man among them. They are always in their seats and their names are found recorded upon nearly every roll call. They are not obstructionists or cranks, but men who seem to have become convinced that the welfare of the nation requires the services of a new political party, and that they found and formed a party to meet the exigency. That it has found many hearers was shown by their wonderful convention in Omaha in 1892, in their casting over a million votes and getting over twenty electoral votes in their first campaign, a new step in a national election. No one in the Populist party need be ashamed, but instead can be proud of their representatives in Congress."

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Protesting Against the Cotton Schedule—Investigating the Action of Judge Jenkins.

WASHINGTON, February 5.—In the Senate resolutions were presented from the Massachusetts Legislature protesting against the cotton schedule of the Wilson bill.

In the House McGann of Illinois asked unanimous consent for consideration of the resolution to investigate the action of Judge Jenkins in the Union Pacific railroad case, in which Jenkins enjoined employees of the road from striking. Objection was made and the resolution, which read as follows, went over:

"Resolved, That the Committee on Judiciary of the House be and is hereby directed to make such investigation into all matters and things herein alleged and report to this House whether or not the Hon. Judge Jenkins, Judge of the United States Circuit Court for the Seventh Circuit, has therein abused the power, powers or process of said Court, or oppressively exercised the same or has used his office as such Judge to intimidate or restrain employees of the Northern Pacific railroad or officers of labor organizations to which said employees, or any of them, were affiliated in exercise of their rights and privileges under the laws of the United States; and if they shall find that said Judge has abused the process of said Court, as alleged, or oppressively exercised the powers of his office as Judge of said Court to the injury of the employees of said railroad and others, then to report whether such act or doings of said Judge warrant the presenting of articles of impeachment, therefore, and to further report what action, if any, should be taken by Congress to prevent a recurrence of the conditions now laid by said order and the injunction upon railway employees on said Northern Pacific road, those engaged upon other roads, officers and members of labor organizations throughout the country and all persons generally."

The Hawaiian debate was resumed by Morse, who had five minutes, but before he had proceeded one Outwalt called him to order for unparliamentary language.

The language to which Outwalt objected was as follows: "Strange to tell, at the command of their master, the Great Cleveland, his cuckoos in the House and Senate, staunch Southern Democrats, the loudest shouters for a white man's government, disregard all their ancient traditions about white man's supremacy and white man's government."

The Speaker ruled the language unparliamentary. Meantime Morse's time expired.

Johnson followed in a strong argument of the Administration for trying to restore the deposed Queen.

Patterson followed. The sugar interests, he argued, was behind the annexation movement. If the islands could have been annexed under the bounty clause of the McKinley law, the sugar planters there would have received from the United States Treasury fifty million dollars. The desire of the sugar planters to put their hands into the pockets of the American people lay at the bottom of the revolution of 1893, said the speaker, impressively. Great haste was manifested to secure annexation, he said, because those in the conspiracy knew that Grover Cleveland when inaugurated would never give his consent to the territorial extension of the United States to those islands, 2,000 miles beyond our western shore.

Wheeler and Oates continued the debate. The former delivered a glowing eulogy on President Cleveland and the latter argued in behalf of the adoption of McCreary's resolution from a legal standpoint.

Boutelle, who followed Oates, after reviewing the contents of the resolution reprobating the policy of the Administration, added: "Whatever may be the tardy expression of this House, I claim a favorable verdict on my indictment from the American people." Continuing, he followed events to the attempted promulgation by the ex-Queen of a new constitution on January 14. That act he denominated the political suicide of the Hawaiian monarchy.

EVANS AND MORRELL.

Two Deputy Sheriffs Have a Bloodless Battle With the Outlaws.

FRESNO, February 5.—About 10 o'clock this morning Deputy Sheriff L. P. Timmins and Charlie Boyd of the Sheriff's office were driving in a cart from Camp Badger to Auckland, which are ten miles apart. When a quarter of a mile above Slick Rock Timmins got out and went across lots in the direction of St. Clair's house, while Boyd drove over the hill. Timmins saw two men come out, but mistook them for officers known to be in the locality. As Boyd approached they began shooting at him, and Timmins opened fire from the field below the road. Boyd had to run the gauntlet, passing within fifty yards of the outlaws. Evans and Morrell were on the upper side of the road and after Boyd passed them they kept along up the crest of the ridge firing at Timmins whenever he tried to cross the plowed field between him and the road. He returned the fire but abandoned the pursuit after they reached the top of the hill as he had no one to help him.

Boyd fired several shots with his pistol as he passed them, but without effect. Boyd endeavored to get to Timmins to assist him, but finding it impossible as the bandits were between them, he went to Dinuba to notify the Sheriff at Fresno. About thirty shots were fired, none of which took effect.

LOVELOCK NOTES.

Protesting Against Taxing Cattle—Allotting Lands to Indians—Lone Pines.

The New Era has the following: On the mountain side, northeast of Rye Patch, stands a cluster of five white pines. This species of pines has given a name to an extreme eastern county of the State, where it is the predominating wood, but the timber of this part of the State is not pine, cedar and mahogany, and how the white pines strayed so far from home is an open question. Perhaps a bird carried the seed, for these are the only white pines within 200 miles.

A public meeting is to be held in Lovelock, on Sunday, the 11th instant, to consider the action of the Board of County Commissioners in making the tax levy so early in the year, thereby threatening to ruin the cattle feeding industry of this section. The cattle will not be in the county more than three months, for which time the owner will have to pay a year's tax, in fact, the cattle are in transit to California, on which part payment of freight charges has been paid.

Bernard Arntzen, Indian Allotting Agent, was in Lovelock January 31st, inspecting the Government lands of the Big Meadows, to determine the acreage suitable for cultivation whereby to provide homes for the Indians of this section. He was direct from Stillwater, where 100 Indians were given an average of 100 acres each of Government land on the Sink of the Carson, which the Government will hold in trust for 25 years. The agent was of the opinion that the Government would aid in constructing irrigating ditches to the land, though no positive assurance is given. From here Agent Arntzen went to Susanville, Cal., where 1200 Indians are awaiting land allotments.

Telegraphic Notes.

A legal battle for the control of the Northern Pacific is now in progress in Milwaukee.

The act repealing the Federal Election bill, it is believed, will pass the Senate to-day.

It is believed in Washington no hearings will be granted by the Senate Finance Committee on the Tariff bill and that it will be ready to report back next week.

Fifty sheepmen from Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Nebraska met at Denver yesterday and protested against the passage of the wool clause of the Wilson bill.

The hearing of the Union Pacific employees on the matter of a reduction in their wages, which was to have taken place at Chicago yesterday, was postponed until Wednesday.

The Colorado Senate majority in caucus yesterday decided to withdraw from the position they have held refusing to transact business and to consider a limited number of bills.

August Vaillant, the anarchist who threw the bomb in the Chamber of Deputies, was guillotined yesterday morning at Paris. His last words were, "Death to society, long live anarchy!"

MARRIED.

CORB-ASHEY—At Wadsworth, January 30, 1894, by Rev. T. L. Bellam, William E. Cobb and Helen Gertrude Ashby.

A Bright Lad,
Ten years of age, but who declines to give his name to the public, makes this authorized, confidential statement to us:

"When I was one year old, my mamma died of consumption. The doctor said that I, too, would soon die, and all our neighbors thought that even if I did not die, I would never be able to walk, because I was so weak and puny. A gathering formed and broke under my arm. I hurt my finger and it gathered and threw out pieces of bone. If I hurt myself so as to break the skin, it was sure to become a running sore. I had to take lots of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has made me well and strong." T. D. M., Norcutt, Kans.

Getting Thin

is often equivalent to getting ill. If loss of flesh can be arrested and disease baffled the "weak spots" in the system are eradicated.

Scott's Emulsion is an absolute corrective of "weak spots." It is a builder of worn out failing tissue—nature's food that stops waste and creates healthy flesh.

GOLDBUG TACTICS.

A Confidential Political Discussion.
Democrat—I don't believe there will be any trouble about our being able to engage the voters in another battle over the tariff. I believe they will make the conflict more sanguinary if we contract their stomachs a little more. A hungry voter is not apt to use his reasoning faculties and will be more easily led by our fiery orators. If the Wilson bill becomes a law we can make the gaunt Democrats believe that the tough times are the aftermath of the McKinley law, and we can make the hungry Republicans believe that the Wilson bill is the cause of their misery.

Republican—You are right; a man with an empty stomach is more easily subdued and will work and vote very cheap; but give him plenty to eat and he becomes saucy and unmanageable. There are thousands of able bodied men in New York city to-day who would be glad to work for ten cents a day, all on account of their hunger, but give them plenty to eat and they would immediately strike for twenty-five or fifty cents a day and would not work over twelve hours. I tell you, if we expect to keep our millionaire bondholders in pin money, so they can buy European titles for their daughters, we will have to give the wage earners and hayseeds another dose of political and personal economy. I think the Democratic branch of the goldbug steering committee made a mistake in predicting that the repeal of the Sherman law would bring prosperity. I see the Populists have made a memorandum of the prediction and are keeping it before the public. We must punish them for their audacity. A great many of them are under mortgage and by threatening them with foreclosure we can command silence.

Democrat—You make a mistake in supposing that a threat of foreclosure will silence the Populists. We tried that in Kansas two years ago and the farmers fought us off. The Farmers Alliance told the hayseeds to hold their homes and the Alliance would give them every assistance that was necessary. We had to leave Kansas without collecting a dollar.

Republican—If things have come to such a pass that the patriotic money lenders of New York can't send their agents into Kansas and enforce their demands, then it is high time that we had a king and a standing army to keep these calamity howlers in subjection. Those Kansas hayseeds have had plenty to eat and are altogether too fresh. We goldbugs have a divine right to rule this country, and will do so if we have to take military possession of every ounce of food west of the Alleghany mountains. We are having the best object lesson we ever had, and now we know what hunger will do. We will make those western hayseeds feel the pangs of hunger if we have to use the stomach pump. This country and all its contents belong to the bondholders and it is high time that they were given peaceable possession.

THE CANDELARIA METEOR.

An Account of the Wonderful Phenomenon by Eye and Witness.

Last Thursday night the people of Candelaria were startled by a dazzling flash of light. It lit up the town and surrounding country as light as day with a changeable blue and white light which was so different from lightning or fire that all who had their curtains up rushed to the street to ascertain the cause. Some were clad in their night robes, but in their excitement they felt as well dressed as those who had not retired.

The sky was perfectly clear and the stars stood out in the frosty night like diamonds.

As the frightened people were beginning to recover from their surprise a terrible explosion occurred in the upper regions. This brought everyone to the street and each asked his equally bewildered neighbor for an explanation.

The explosion was followed for three or four minutes by a terrible ripping and hissing noise and the frightened people expected to see the very sky with its bright stars come down on their heads.

It is safe to say that the stoutest heart felt a tremor at this most wonderful phenomena. Those who were on the street at the time are unable to state anything as to the direction of the meteor, but by questioning as to where the noise seemed to begin and end we think it went from northwest to southeast.

The explosion sounded a little north of our zenith and as the time from the flash till the explosion was 30 seconds, it must have burst within six miles of us. Parties have been out, but found nothing. We want it to complete Nevada's exhibit at the fair. SATURN.

Commissioners' Proceeds.

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday; present Geo. Alt, Chairman; W. P. McLaughlin and J. S. Crosby, Commissioners; O. Evans, Clerk, and B. F. Currier, District Attorney.

The following business was transacted:

A petition of Hallan and others praying for repairs to the Verdi bridge was laid over.

The petition of Stephens and others asking that repairs be made to the Forty-nine Canyon road was laid over.

On motion of Commissioner Crosby the claim of C. C. Powning for $1,000 for Fourth of July celebration was rejected by an unanimous vote.

On motion of Commissioner McLaughlin, an order was made authorizing J. M. Fulton to expend the sum of $150 in making a road from High Rock to Sheephead.

A petition largely signed by resident taxpayers was presented to the Board asking that $1,000 be appropriated for an exhibit of the products of Washoe county at the Midwinter Fair, it being understood the amount is to be refunded by an act of the Legislature. On motion action on the petition was deferred until the next regular meeting of the Board.

On motion of W. P. McLaughlin it was ordered that the District Attorney be authorized to confess judgment in the cases of Constable Dickey and Justice Linn against the county for fees, the amount of the same having been agreed upon.

The money in the county treasury was counted and amounted to $46,224.04, which was correct as per Auditor's report.

After allowing the several bills against the county the board adjourned until Wednesday next.

PIUTE WAR CLAIMS.

What Senator Stewart Says on the Subject.

The Carson Appeal says T. J. Tennant, who was instrumental in getting an act passed by the Nevada Legislature for proving up Piute war claims of 1880, has received the following letter from Senator Stewart:

"UNITED STATES SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 29, 1894.
"Thomas Tennant, Esq., Carson City, Nevada—DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your favor of the 9th instant relative to Piute Indian war claims. The bill has been introduced in the Senate by myself, and I am about prepared to make a report thereon. I shall endeavor to secure an early passage through the Senate, and have great hopes that Mr. Newlands will be able to pass it in the House. I trust we will be able to secure the payment of these claims in this Congress. Yours very truly,
"WM. M. STEWART."

Aer Skull Fractured.

Sunday afternoon Minnie Shields, daughter of M. Shields, living near Glendale, was thrown from a horse she was riding, striking upon her head in a pile of rocks. Her skull was fractured just above the eyes. Drs. Lewis and Phillips were called in attendance and succeeded in raising the bone which was pressing on the brain. The case is very serious, but hopes are entertained for the best.

Catarrh

In Its Worst Form

A Glorious Change Due Solely to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Washoe City School Report.
Roll of honor of Washoe City school for the month of January:

KATIE G. BLAKE, Teacher.

Lieutenant Stockle Appointed.

It is reported that Lieutenant George Stockle of the 12th U. S. Cavalry has been appointed to succeed Lieutenant Neall as Military Instructor of the State University, the appointment to take effect in June when Lieutenant Neall's term expires. The University and people of the State, while sorry to lose Lieutenant Neall, who has been an able instructor and is a thorough gentleman, will be glad to know that his successor will be a Native Son of the State.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease, and therefore it can only be cured by a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read what it did for Mrs. King, concisely expressed in her own voluntary words:

"Gentlemen:—From a grateful heart I write what your grand medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, has done for me. Five bottles cured me of catarrh in its worst form. I think it was only a matter of time, when it would have ended in Bronchial Consumption.

I can scarcely realize wherein a few months ago life was almost a burden, sick and discouraged, now I am Well and Happy, gaining flesh and a new being. And all owing to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I will never be without it. Yours gratefully, MRS. CLARA KING, Geneva, Ohio.

THE PASSING OF THE JUSTICES.

Their Trip From Their Robbing Apartment to the Courtroom.

Another innovation has made its appearance at the capitol. It is worth while to make a trip to the building just before 12 o'clock every day to witness it.

The room in which the supreme court justices adorn themselves with their flowing silk robes is across the hall from the chamber in which the court meets. Hitherto a few moments before noon the door of the attiring room would open, and forthwith would emerge the solemn justices. On one side of the corridor—which, by the way, is the main passageway through the capitol—would stand a court official and another man would be stationed on the opposite side. Between this guard the justices would walk and a moment later would disappear behind the heavy door of the entrance to the private corridor to the bench. But this simple and modest method has been changed to the past. It is different now.

When the justices are now ready to leave their attiring apartment, four court messengers appear. They bear two pieces of plush covered ropes. A man stands on each side of the two doors, and across the corridor they stretch their plush covered barrier. Through the avenue thus formed the black gowned justices walk, the brilliant plush covering gleaming like a streak of fire against their somber robes.

If the justices are a little slow, the crowd must possess its soul in patience. Not until the last black gown has disappeared are the plush covered ropes taken down and the ordinary course of travel allowed to resume.—Washington Post.

MISSOURI'S LONG DROUGHT.

Pike and Ralls Counties Have Been Parched For Over Six Months.

There has now been a drought in this part of the state since the middle of last June, and consequently the present drought is the greatest that we have experienced for many years. It is true that we have had many showers since last June, but none of them afforded any stock water to amount to anything, and consequently nearly all the cisterns and ponds are dry. Most of the springs have ceased to flow, and all the creeks and branches have nearly run dry. Salt river is lower than was ever before known, and Spencer creek, which runs through Ralls and a portion of Pike county, is nearly dry.

Some of the farmers of Ralls county are driving their stock nearly 10 miles to water, and this has been the case for the past three months. The water being low in the ponds and branches, it has frozen nearly solid, so that in many localities there is virtually a water famine. It is hardly probable that there will be any rain this winter to amount to anything, and the farmers are becoming despondent. Nearly every cistern in Hannibal is dry, but as this city has an excellent system of waterworks our citizens are not having much trouble. But what the farmers will do to supply their stock with water during the present winter is beyond comprehension. It seems that their only alternative is to sink wells, for in this way they can get a supply of water in any part of the country, although in some cases it may be rather expensive.—Hannibal (Mo.) Courier-Post.

The Irish Language. The society which has recently been inaugurated with the view of preserving the Irish language as a living tongue appears to be in a very flourishing condition. "The weekly meetings at 4 College Green," a Dublin correspondent writes, "are swelling to such dimensions as will necessitate a change of quarters at an early date. The league holds a meeting here every Wednesday night, at which papers are read in Irish, speeches are delivered in Irish by men who have spoken Irish from the cradle, and Irish is taught viva voce, and it is intended to have a series of addresses delivered in Irish in the Irish speaking districts throughout Ireland in order to encourage the people who yet speak the old tongue to continue to use it and encourage their children to use it."

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mercury nor arsenic. It is not a dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Even the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 5 for $5.00. Soap, 50c per jar; 6 for $2.50.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

A Party of Duck Hunters Found a Dog on a Sunken Steamer.

A big Newfoundland dog, in the last stages of starvation, was found one day last week in the hold of the wrecked tank steamer Gluckauf, which went ashore east of the Lone Hill life saving station on the south side of Long Island in a blinding snowstorm about a year ago. A party of duck hunters, as found the dog, numbered inside the wreck out of curiosity and saw the dog crouching on one of the boilers. The boiler was surrounded by water, and the dog was so weak that he was unable to get off.

How the animal got there is not known, but he must have been washed overboard from some passing vessel, and while lying in the snow he must have been carried into a big hole that exists in the side of the wreck. There he found lodgment on the boiler. By means of ladders the duck hunters succeeded in rescuing the animal, and he was taken to a cabin on the beach and fed. He is now in the possession of Vinal Terry.

Mahogany Streets In Paris.

The laying down of mahogany roadways sounds almost like a dream of oriental magnificence, but it is what the Paris municipal council are engaged in at the present moment. A portion of that almost interminable thoroughfare, the Rue Lafayette—that portion nearest to the Eastern of France railway terminus—has been pulled up, and workmen are laying down blocks of real Brazilian mahogany of a peculiarly fine texture and color. It is confessedly an experiment, as the mahogany is dearer than the woods ordinarily used for the same purpose. Mahogany, however, is not as dear as it used to be. The actual cost of the new roadway will be 50 francs a square meter, which is considerably less than $2 a square yard. It is hoped that the extra outlay incurred will be more than compensated for by greater durability.—London News.

"Down With the Lords!"

A New York newspaper man writing from London says: Havelock Wilson, M. P., leader of the Seamen's Firemen's union, tells me that he has been testing public sentiment on the question of the house of lords at meetings which he addressed recently through the country. Contrary to the feeling in London he declares that no topic appeals so strongly to workingmen in the country as the obstruction of the aristocracy. Every time he advocated the dissolution of the house of lords the suggestion was received with wild enthusiasm. "Down with the lords" would be the best election cry of the next campaign, in his opinion.

Germany's Crown Prince.

Poor little crown prince of Germany! The drastic system of royal German education has almost killed him, according to all accounts. He has been seized with fits of trembling and nervousness, and much anxiety is being felt about him. It is at once gratifying and pathetic to hear that he is to have as much peace as the life of a child for a whole year. This brief statement tells by contrast a volume of what sort of life the little soldier-student has had.—New York Times.

Satisfying Result.

"I have called," said the cautious critic, "to find out what result it can give for regaining the new year as a rule small boy."

"That is done," said the art editor, "because the year does not get its close till the 31st of December."

Then the year was closed and the new year was begun.

Broke Into Jail.

"Theology of the Portland (Mich.) jail broke into the city of Portland, Me., and, as it contained no prisoners, it was neglected to lock it during the night. When heretofore, he found that three men had entered, built a fire in the stove and were occupying three of the cells."—Portland Dispatch.

Help is Wanted.

By the women who are ailing and suffering, or weak and exhausted. And, to every such woman, help is guaranteed by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For young girls just entering womanhood; women at the critical "change of life"; women approaching confinement; nursing mothers, and every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, it is a medicine that builds up, strengthens, and regulates, no matter what the condition of the system. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nerve, and the only guaranteed remedy for female complaints and weaknesses. In bearing down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
